

Our Products

Planet Foods has always represented a portfolio of the finest natural and organic products available in Canada by committing to staying Strong and Healthy™ in the marketplace. We are proud to include some of the strongest Canadian Marketplace Leaders in our portfolio.

We are also continually searching for new brands that can compliment our portfolio in a unique way. If you are interested in presenting your products to us, please contact our marketing department for an evaluation of how we can help you build a strong brand in Canada.

Planet Foods has a sales team with unsurpassed customer service and product knowledge that can aid any retailer or food service customer. We will help find exactly what the retailer is looking for to compliment their uniqueness, existing categories, or to develop a whole new category. We are confident our sales and marketing team can help you build your business quickly and effectively through customized marketing, in-store consultations and proper execution of promotional plans. For any interests in retail or food service sales, please contact the sales department for a market consultation and product presentation.

Our new clean fuel sports category represents the cleanest products in the sports nutrition market and we are committed to growing this category without compromising integrity. If you are interested in listing a clean sports line, or would like to add your product to this portfolio, please contact the Sports Nutrition department.
